TRAVEL TO ROSSDALES EQUINE HOSPITAL AND DIAGNOSTIC CENTRE

Exning lies just off the A14 trunk road, roughly 12 miles (19 km) east-northeast of Cambridge, and 10 miles (16 km) south-south-east of Ely. The nearest large town is Newmarket.

By road, southbound from the A1(M), follow the signs for the A14 and head for Newmarket.

By road, northbound from the M11, follow the signs for the A11 and head towards Newmarket.

Rossdales Equine Hospital and Diagnostic Centre is conveniently approached from the main A14 Newmarket by-pass, turning off at the A142 Ely and Newmarket junction.

Turn off the slip road in the direction of Ely. Light traffic can turn left after 100 yards along Windmill Hill (sign posted Exning) into the village of Exning.

Once on site you will be directed to the Simon Gibson Room.

- Rossdales Equine Hospital and Diagnostic Centre is conveniently approached from the main A14 Newmarket by-pass, turning off at the A142 Ely and Newmarket junction. Turn off the slip road in the direction of Ely. Light traffic can turn left after 100 yards along Windmill Hill (sign posted Exning) into the village of Exning. Would horseboxes and other heavy traffic please continue along the A142 for 1.5 miles and turn left at the Turners cold store corner (signposted Landwade) to avoid increasing traffic in the village of Exning, particularly at the difficult War Memorial crossroads junction.
- At night, the main Hospital gates will be locked and clients bringing in emergency cases will require a security number for the electronic key pad to open the gates on arrival. This will be given by telephone when the admission is accepted. The security number is changed regularly.
